CODEV provides seminars around activities that are most likely to lead participants towards the goals that we have defined to help acquire and retain skills longer. For example, writing, discussions, fieldwork, service learning, problem-solving or small group collaboration. Since its creation, it has always endeavored to develop the most effective tools over the years, rich with its achievements and its journey in terms of capacity-building and technical assistance has shaped the way to attain a great deal of experience in training course design. Thanks to our highly qualified mentors, CODEV International is able to deliver an evaluative training program to answer any questions and ensure general satisfaction. Our mentors are determined to develop procedures for all training programs to identify barriers that are preventing skills from being applied and to increase productivity.

We provide our participants with reliable course content and instructions that will enable them to master the abilities they envisioned into practice.
